

“Angela”

Written by Emanuel “EJ” Johnson

Angela for so long I saw you
Just running wild, you were just a child

And suddenly things started happening too
And just look at you now

I never ever knew what a little time could do
Just look what God has done you're a dream come true

How I'd like to have you baby in my world
Sweet little Angie girl

Angela now that you have grown to be a lady
Would you please be mine

And promise me that you'll be by my side forever
And be mine until the end of time

All my life I always wanted to have a sweet thing like you
And making love and holding you in my arms is what I wanna do

How I'd like to have you baby in my world
Sweet little Angie girl

How I wish that you could be my only girl
Sweet little Angie girl

How I'd like to have your love forever and ever mine
Sweet little Angie girl

How I'd like to have you baby in my world
Sweet little Angie, sweet little Angie
Sweet little Angie girl
